Previous Rejections

All previous rejections are withdrawn.

Obviousness Rejection

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 34-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Barton-Wright et al (Chemical Abstracts 60:77820).

The prior art discloses intramuscular administration of aqueous calcium panthothenate to rheumatoid arthritis patients. No other ingredients are included. The prior art differs from the instant claims insofar as it does not specify intramuscular administration into "the region" of an inflamed and painful joint. The instant specification does not define, and thus does not place specific limitations on, that phrase. Certainly it would have been obvious to have administered the active agent of the prior art in the bicep of the arm, which is "in the region" of arthritic hands and elbows. It would also be in "the region" of the shoulder, hip or spine.

The reference states that "relief" was obtained, but does explicitly state, ipsissima verba, that pain and inflammation were both alleviated. This would certainly be reasonably expected, however, since the same condition is being treated with the same agent in the case of both applicant and the prior art, such that the same symptoms would be inherently relieved in each case. (Remember that "alleviation" as instantly recited is met by any degree of relief, no matter how minor; indeed, it is arguably met simply by an increased sense of well being accompanying treatment).

The reference does not specifically disclose the conditions of instant claim 35. Inflamed knee joints and hip pain, at least, are common complaints in rheumatoid arthritis patients, so the treatment of same would have been obvious in a self-evident manner for patients having those specific complaints.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 10-14 and 29-33 are allowable as presently advised.

Action is Final, Necessitated by Amendment

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
